Joe Hill, Local Highway Patrolman, Solves Case Of The Bloody Envelope

By Ouida Jewell

Joe Hill, 26, local Highway Patrolman, turned detective Monday night and with a bloody envelope as a clue, solved a breakin at the Gibson County Electric Coop at Union City.

And, the beginning all happened by accident too—an automobile accident that is.

Trooper Hill was called to the scene of an auto accident a mile north of Fulton on Highway 45 shortly after 10 Monday night. When he arrived a few minutes later at the scene, the driver, a fellow by the name of Clark of Wingo, had left the scene. According to Trooper Hill, Clark was drinking and feared arrest.

Clark, who suffered injury when his head crushed the windshield of his car, later went to Hillview Hospital but ran without treatment upon arrival of the doctor.

While Trooper Hill was at the Clark accident, another automobile with four male occupants weaved by the scene, and the Highway Patrolman took out after them. Hill stopped the second car about three miles south of Wingo, and when the driver of the car, Lamar West of Lynnville, got out he was immediately arrested for drunken driving.

Just prior to stopping the car,

Hill noticed a back door of the car open and shut.

After arresting West, Hill had the other three young men, all about 20 years of age, to stand in front of the West car, while he searched the interior of the vehicle.

While Hill was doing this, one of the trio fled on foot into the nearby woods. It was then Trooper Hill decided to search the trunk of the automobile, but the owner failed to produce a key.

Hill then called another Kentucky Highway Patrolman, Houston Hawley, to come out of Mayfield and carry the three men into the Graves County Jail. Also, the Burt Wrecker was called to tow the car to Mayfield. Hill started to return to the accident scene. After driving a short distance, he turned around and went back to where he had stopped the West car and searched the surrounding area. It was then that he found a bloodstained envelope, belonging to Gibson County Electric Coop of Union City. The envelope contained a number of stamps.

Hill immediately called the Union City police to inquire if there had been a breakin at the Union City firm. The police checked and discovered that the Coop had been burglarized, with several items missing.

Hill searched the trunk of the West automobile and discovered a typewriter, bearing Gibson County Electric Corp sticker, an electric adding machine, a quantity of various brands of cigarettes, a quantity of chewing gum and an

With Voting Only Ten Days Away, Interest In Local Electrical System Ownership Is Picking Up

A scant week-and-a-half remain before voters of the city of Fulton will go to the polls to decide the fate of their electric distribution system, and during the past week interest in this matter and its importance has generated a number of meetings in the downtown area and around at private homes.

Many people remarked this week that they were just now realizing the full significance of the matter that will be put to a vote, and felt that "the importance of voting yes" should be discussed as often as possible in small group meetings and get-togethers from now until election date in order that the smallest possible number of citizens can become informed.

The NEWS will be happy to publish letters on this matter if any arrive in time for next week's paper; The News office may be used for obtaining information either by phone or personal visit. A number of important points—as we see them—are mentioned in an editorial in this issue on page two.

Basically, the question to be decided at the polls is whether the citizens of Fulton want to buy their own electrical distribution system from the Kentucky Utilities Company, or whether they do not. Such a purchase, if voted, would be financed by revenue bonds to be repaid from system profits and even while the bonds were being paid out in the years ahead, rates could be lowered below that now in effect.

Most Candidates Oppose Tripp's Views On Payroll and Occupation Tax For City

Fulton's municipal election to name a Mayor and four commissioners and a police judge is going into the home stretch with the election to be held on November 7. This week the News publishes more campaign statements by the various candidates and though many of them speak loud and clear regarding much needed improvements for the city, none as yet, has advocated any new revenue measures to pay for the path to progress. To the contrary, statements in this week's paper made by the candidates oppose some of the tax measures proposed in the past.

Only one candidate, Gilbert DeMyer for Mayor, has touched on the sensitive subject of taxation. Mr. DeMyer promised, that if elected, he would reduce the automobile tax from ten dollars to five dollars as soon as possible. The ten dollar tax created a storm of protest last March when a wider coverage was extended to include all persons working within the city limits, whether they lived in Fulton or not. Mayor Nelson Tripp stood firm on the increased coverage and has made no comment whether he will continue the tax or reduce it, if he is elected.

Such revenue producing measures as a payroll tax, an occupational tax, increased property assessments and other methods of new revenue suggested to the City Council at various times by Mayor Tripp have been publicly opposed by candidates in today's issue.

While some Fultonians admire the "ambitious" program of development as pointed out by Mayor Tripp and the other candidates who have stated their views, many are apprehensive that a barrage of new taxes will result if the programs are to be put in effect.

Meanwhile Mayor Tripp's term of office has produced such new taxes as:

—The increased tax on autos from five dollars to ten dollars to pay for new bridges on Commercial Avenue and Burns Avenue.

—A four per cent tax on fire insurance premiums passed on the policy-holders by the insurance companies.

—A two per cent tax on life insurance premiums, this tax to the company was also passed on to the policy-holder.

—An occupational tax to electric and phone companies, Kentucky Utilities is paying $200 a month, but Southern Bell has not yet complied with the ordinance.

—Continuation of the creek tax although the Harris Fork Creek bond issue has been paid.

Fulton's tax rate on property assessment is set by law for fourth class cities such as Fulton at a maximum of seventy-five cents per hundred dollars of assessment. Only a drastic overhaul of property assessments, as proposed by Mr. Tripp, can produce any appreciable amount of revenue in this channel. Mr. Tripp's views on added taxation are matters of public record on the minutes of the City Council meetings at the City Hall.

Commissioner Candidate Winstead Opposed To Pay Roll Tax For City

Orrian L. Winstead, a candidate for Commissioner for the City of Fulton, has served on the Fulton City Council for the past four years.

Mr. Winstead is chairman of several council committees, including, the Street Department, Bridges, Lights, Telephones and of the Mosquito Spray Program. And, on May 1960 he was appointed by the City Council as Chairman of the Police and Fire Departments.

Mr. Winstead, in an interview with The News on Tuesday, stated that he is in favor of the City Manager form of government, for Urban Renewal and for city owned power.

The local city official also stated that he is opposed, and has been for the past four years, to an occupational tax or payroll tax for the City of Fulton.

Mr. Winstead, friendly type person, has been co-owner and manager of the Paul Nailling Implement Company here for the past 23 years. He is a member of the First Methodist Church, a former Rotarian, and a great hunter and fisherman.

Mr. Winstead was born in 1909 in Weakley County near Dresden. He attended the Dresden schools, then moved to Fulton in 1935, beginning to work immediately for the Paul Nailling Implement Company, where he has remained since.

In 1929 he married Miss Ruby Delene Matheny of South Fulton. They have owned their home at 112 Jackson Street for the past 23 years.

Bill Rice, Candidate For Commissioner, Not In Favor Of Payroll Tax For City

Bill Rice, who is a candidate for Commissioner for the City of Fulton, stated today that he is not in favor of a payroll tax for the city.

Mr. Rice, who served as chairman and general manager of a water district for eight years before moving to Fulton in the spring of 1958, is in favor of the urban renewal, a city budget, and a yearly audit published in such a form that the taxpayers may see how their tax money is spent.

In stating to The News what he was, and was not, in favor of if elected as Commissioner of the City of Fulton, Mr. Rice, also listed the following:

He is in favor of a city manager, college training and experienced, not a local man; of placing women guards at all school crossings, morning, noon and at dismissal time; of reducing speed limit for trucks and prohibiting noisy mufflers on West State Line; of listening to and investigating all complaints and suggestions of the taxpayers of Fulton and to comply wherever it is reasonable and fair to do so; of first things first, such as street repairs, etc.; and of city-owned public lighting system.

Mr. Rice, a very friendly man, is against inefficient and wasteful methods, such as the job done in the Highlands sewer project.

"I will not sell the city anything directly or indirectly which is illegal; I am free of any pressures, as I do no business in Fulton."

Mr. Rice was born and reared

Clarence Moline, Candidate For City Commissioner, Favors Low Cost Power

CLARENCE MOLINE

Clarence Moline, Maintenance Superintendent for Ferry-Morse Seed Company here, who is a candidate for Commissioner for the City of Fulton, stated that he is in favor of the City's purchase of the local Kentucky Utilities Plant and of providing the citizens of Fulton with low cost power.

Mr. Moline, when interviewed by The News on Tuesday, also stated that he is in favor of the Urban Renewal program and low rent housing. He also wants a Civil Defense Program for the City.

Mr. Moline, a very nice person, who was born and reared on a farm near the small town of Custer, Mich., moved to Detroit when only 17 years old. He lived there for 35 years, before being transferred to Fulton in 1959 with the Ferry-Morse Seed Company.

He is a member of the Berkeley,

Mich., Masonic Lodge 536, and both he and his wife are members of the Detroit Unity Church. They have a son, John, of Dearborn, Mich., who is married and has a daughter, five. The Molines also have a daughter, Mrs. Richard Smith of Royal Oak, Mich., who has a son eight.

Mr. Moline's hobby is bowling. Since coming to Fulton, Mr. Moline has been very active in civic affairs and is serving as Chairman of the Planning Board and Vice-Chairman of the Board of Adjustments.

Judge Perce, Seeking Re-Election, Takes Interest In Welfare Of Children

City Judge H. H. Perce, who has served as Fulton City Judge since January 1948, is seeking re-election. He is opposed by Paul Laine of Eddings, a retired railroad employee.

Judge Perce said that he is making no promises, but plans to continue enforcing the law as he has in the past. He does have a strong interest in the welfare of children and is strictly against letting those who run stop signs and are caught driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverage go unpunished. He levels fines according to the law on these matters.

Judge Perce came to Fulton in 1901, as an express messenger on the Illinois Railroad, and has lived here ever since. He retired from service in December, 1946.

Prior to being elected Fulton City Judge, Mr. Perce served as Judge Pro Tem for one year, during the illness of Judge Lon Adams.

Judge Perce had one son, Tobe Perce, who lives in Hollywood, Calif. His wife passed away in 1950. The Perce home is located on Fourth Street, in Fulton.

Judge Perce a friendly type of person, takes his duties very seriously and has proved himself an honest and non-partial judge since being in office.

His statement follows:

In making my announcement for re-election as City Judge, I first want to thank you for your support in the past. I wish it were possible for me to call on each of you personally, but duties at the office have priority over my time, hence, I am appealing to you through the press for support, influence and vote.

The duties of City Judge are various and requires, not only presiding over trial of cases, but also clerical and book work. One must be able to write legibly and use a typewriter in the execution of warrants, garnishments, subpoenas and other legal documents,

He was elected Friday, October 13, out of hundreds of teachers in all of Western Kentucky. This is his first year at Fulton County High. He is formerly a resident of Georgia.

Do You Know What You're Voting For??

If you live in Fulton, you are going to be asked to vote November 7 on whether or not you favor acquisition of the local electric distribution system.

Do you or don't you? Or don't you know??

We thought it might be a good idea this week to take a little space here to discuss this question and what it means for Fulton. It IS important; you SHOULD vote and make yourself heard on the matter.

Specifically, the question on the ballot will read thusly:

"Are you in favor of the city of Fulton, Kentucky acquiring an electric plant by the exercise of the power of eminent domain and the issuance of revenue bonds in an amount sufficient to pay the entire damages and costs of such acquisition?"

The question on the ballot makes the problem sound a bit tougher than it actually is. Actually there will be no court fight; KU has agreed to sell peacefully without a legal battle, and the selling price has been agreed on as fair and justifiable. Thus will the citizens of Fulton be spared a series of costly court actions that have cost Princeton, Paducah and Glasgow thousands on thousands of dollars.

There are a number of good reasons why the citizens of Fulton should mark "yes" to the above question:

The City can run its own electric distribution system through a semi-independent Electric plant Board, buy electricity wholesale from KU and make enough money out of the operation to eventually do away with all city taxes. Madisonville, Kentucky does this.

The City can buy wholesale from KU and still sell to its citizens at slightly-above TVA rates after the system is paid for, using the profits for general expenditures if desired.

The City can buy wholesale from KU for a time and then switch over and buy from TVA from then on, if the citizens want it. This would then reduce local rates down to any other TVA-served system. Under TVA, of course, there would be no profit for the city to use in its own operations, since TVA does not permit a profit to accrue.

The Electric Plant Board of Fulton has indicated that all present KU employees in Fulton will be offered jobs here if they desire to stay.

The system would be paid for out of earnings (revenue bond issue) and there would be no taxes levied against the people of Fulton either to pay for the system or to support it in any way.

The electric plant Board would run the electric system; the mayor and Commissioners would have nothing to do with its operation beyond appointing one man to the Electric Board each year to replace one whose term had expired.

These are just some of the reasons why you should vote "yes".

The only reason to vote "no" is in order to keep things as they now are, with Kentucky Utilities Company the sole local source.

When Public Officials Conduct Public Affairs In Private, You Can Expect Some Dishonesty

All newspapermen now and then run up against a wall of secrecy in the handling of the public's business. Closed-door meetings; half-truths later released for publication after such meetings; the "public-be-damned" attitude of many custodians of public affairs arouses bitter protests by editors from time to time.

The press in this country—which is dedicated to the people's right to know—has many champions of this right who never let up in their efforts to keep their colleagues in the Fourth Estate and the public aware of the vast amount of secrecy that surrounds the acts of many public officials.

One of these champions is James S. Pope, executive editor of the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times. Crusading for the public's right to know has been almost a life-time pursuit of Mr. Pope.

Speaking recently on a panel discussion at New York University, Mr. Pope remarked:

"Of all possible summit meeting it's quite possible the most important one in our future would be a real negotiation for common sense as between the harried guardians of our safety and the purveyors of public information.

"The President last spring, in terms newspaper editors thought much too vague and unrealistic, asked us to insure security, each in his own way. And our manifest annoyance seemed to make him doubt our interest in security, when our real trouble was our interest in truth. It's not too late for editors and government to understand and talk sense to each other. The heart of our estrangement is the secret. The government thinks we don't keep enough of them. We think the government keeps too many. As of now we have an enormous file of evidence; theirs is hard to ascertain. They are afraid, and evasive. The secret terrifies those who have it. . . .

"No editor wants to make the enemy a present of fresh and useful information. Keeping America informed does not mean publishing every military or diplomatic secret we possess. But contrariwise, keeping America in blind-folded ignorance of its defense operation could become more valuable to any enemy than all the military secrets we own. We won't find a way to save both truth and security by declaring internal war, and fighting it out with megatonic phrases."

What Mr. Pope had to say may be made to apply equally to public officials on the lower levels of government, from state capitals down to city and county officeholders.

Some public agencies in Paducah have long had the unhealthy habit of conducting their business—which is the public's business—in private, as if they feared for the public to know what they were doing. This is a situation that will not be altered until the people arouse themselves to demand that their business be conducted fully in the open.

HOW DO WE STOP THE CLOCK?

The Rev. J. C. Gilbert, pastor of The First Methodist Church of Mayfield, recently printed in his church bulletin an alarming observation which he declared is "worth repeating, worth thinking about, and worth doing something about." It traces the historical course which people follow, unless they actively choose to alter the course.

According to this "look at history" the people go—

1. From chains to spiritual faith.
2. From spiritual faith to courage.
3. From courage to liberty.

An Historical review of THE CIVIL WAR DAY-BY-DAY (Material is from publication of exactly one hundred years ago; original wording from references in the Library of Congress, Washington. Reporting in the papers was usually very one-sided; we seek to be fair in coverage and preserve a national balance. . . . ED).

BY WILLIAM H. McHENRY

Fourth Week in October, 1861

The Battle of Ball's Bluff, fought a few miles from Washington on October 21, 1861, was probably the most disastrous battle of the war from the viewpoint of the Union army. Because of this battle and the defeat of the Union soldiers, the Congress organized the Joint Committee on the Conduct of the War. Senator Wade of Massachusetts was the Chairman. For the four years of the war, the influence of that committee was said to be "Malign" to the Union war effort. It seems that often the Committee would seek someone to act as a "scapegoat" after any Union disaster. The actions of this committee caused many Union officers to lose heart in the war.

After Ball's Bluff, it was Brig. Gen. Charles P. Stone who was the scapegoat. Stone was removed from command and imprisoned in Ft. Lafayette, New York, without any charges over having been brought against him.

The Richmond papers reported the battle at Ball's Bluff in this way: "Battle of Leesburg. A brilliant victory gained by the Confederates under Gen. Evans over the enemy commanded by Col. Baker. Baker was slain and nearly all of his command was killed or captured."

It seems that McClelland had suggested to Gen. Stone that Union troops be sent across the Potomac. Stone ordered the movement at Ball's Bluff, but did not provide maps or accurate information. Col. Baker, who had until just recently been the Senator from Oregon, was in command of the Union troops.

The Union soldiers crossed at a place where the banks on the south side of the Potomac were high, and the river was deep. The crossed in small boats, climbed the bluff, and began to make their way through the timber to the south of the river. Superior Confederate forces jumped them while they were disorganized, and the disaster followed. The North had 237 killed or wounded, and 714 captured or missing. Many of the missing had been drowned as they attempted to recross the Potomac.

All during the summer and early fall of 1861, the newspapers in North Carolina had been apprehensive that the State would be invaded. North Carolina had been one of the most Unionist of the Confederate states. Men from North Carolina were often willing to join the Confederate army to "repel invasion" by the North, but insisted that they not be sent to "invade the North." (And yet, forever after, the Tarheels would boast of being "First at Big Bethel, further at Gettysburg, and last to surrender at Appomattox!")

North Carolina had seized Ft. Macon at Beaufort and Ft. Caswell south of Wilmington. She had also outfitted the "Winslow" as a raider of Union commerce. After the Winslow had captured several Northern ships, there had been an outcry in the Northern papers that the Union navy must "stop up the N. C. coast!"

Union Naval operations had started against the North Carolina coast on August 26. The Confederates had fortified the entrance at Hatteras inlet. These two forts, called "Ft. Hatteras" and "Ft. Clark" had been captured along with 870 men, 35 cannon, and over a thousand stands of small arms. The Union fleet had also captured the posts at Ocracoke Inlet (Portsmouth and Beacom Island) on September 16.

The South had lost another 22 cannon at Ocracoke Inlet. Now the State of North Carolina must fortify the cities of Beaufort, New Bern, and the small towns along the banks of the Neuse and Pamlico rivers.

Those things had happened just as the South had been most in need of troops to save Western Virginia from the Union Army. North Carolina troops were needed at home, and the City of Norfolk was helpless against the North.

The closing of the North Carolina ports had made something else necessary. To supply the Confederate army in Virginia, any supplies which were brought in Europe must not only run the blockade, but they must then be landed in the deep south below the blockade) and then shipped by the small trains of that time to the battlefield in Virginia. During 1861, the Union ships making up the blockade captured one of every ten ships which managed to run the blockade. (This figure was raised to one of every eight in '62, one of every four in '63, and one of every two in '64.)

Federal ship crews shared in prize money, and during the course of the War, there were 1,148 ships captured by the North. Some Union officers would become rich, and practically every Southerner who invested in ships would become penniless. The crewmen in a blockade runner were paid as much as $250 and the Captain as much as $5,000 for a single trip. The blockade set in motion a great smuggling operation which at times involved many prominent men, both North and South.

During these years Mr. Willett came face to face with the mysteries of the Orient and the terrors of the jungle. He made an intensive study of the country, its people and their life and customs. He collected many curios and items. He has woven the infor-

Do you know what the signals will be in case of an atomic attack? No?

The ALERT SIGNAL will be a steady blast of three to five minutes on sirens, whistles, horns, or similar devices.

WHAT TO DO—Tune AM radio to a Conelrad station, 640 or 1240, for emergency instructions.

KNOW YOUR LOCAL CIVIL DEFENSE emergency plans (Fulton hasn't any at present, but I understand they are being formulated); obey police and Civil Defense instructions.

DO NOT USE THE TELEPHONE.

Do not become panicky if your radio is silent for a short time. This is necessary to switch to emergency broadcasting frequencies.

TAKE COVER SIGNAL is a wailing tone or short blasts for three minutes on sirens, whistles, horns or similar devices.

WHAT TO DO—at home, get in shelter, or shut outside doors and windows and take cover in basement or in interior first-floor room; outdoors, seek best available cover, stay put until you get word to come out.

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

Something new was added to the variety of programs held in the many clubs around the area. The presentation of readings is growing in popularity all over America and it proved just as popular in Fulton on Tuesday night of last week at the first meeting of the Drama and Literature Department of The Woman's Club. Samuel Holly, whom many of you have heard recite his "thought for the day" over WFUL was the guest speaker and if ever we saw a more rapt and interested audience it was that one.

Sam, as he is affectionately called all over the West Kentucky area, delighted his audience by reading some of his and his audience's favorite poems. Sam read poems from the pens of the immortal poets, but then he also read some written by his long-time friend, Rev. Eason, a former pastor in Hickman. Rev. Eason's poems were enjoyed just as much as the more familiar ones and Sam proved himself a real artist in his presentations.

Program leader for the evening was Mrs. H. H. Bugg, who told of her first encounter with Sam and from what we heard it will be a long and lasting friendship. Mildred said she met Sam quite by accident when she and Hilliard were at Reelfoot Lake and Mildred was frightened to death by an impending storm. She saw a couple sitting in a car nearby and went over and asked the gent in the car the best way to get out of the storm and she was given some good advice . . . and who was the fellow with all the weather knowledge . . . Samuel Holley. She had asked Sam before, that to be on her program, but the only contact she had had with him, before the storm, was through the live-wire and Sam's program.

The club was delighted to have Mrs. Holley and Colonel Wendell Holly, their son, as guest. A delicious dinner was served. Mrs. Bob Brown presided for Mrs. Glenn Veneklasen, the department's chairman, who was unable to attend.

Good news comes our way. The report is that Bill and Gerry Mc-Mahan will be moving back to Muscatine, Iowa in the not too distant future. Muscatine is still a far way from Fulton, but not so much so that a trip seems out of the question. The McMahan's now live in California.

We are glad to learn that Ann Fly's father, Harry George of Paducah, is improving, after being in the hospital. He is at home now.

The United Church Women will observe World Community Day on November 3 at 10 a. m. at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. The public is invited.

An outstanding program on the Observation of Christmas was given at the October meeting of the Victory Homemakers Club on Tuesday of last week in the home of Mrs. Fred Collier.

Mrs. Ernest Jenkins told the members that careful plans should be made by the entire family for the Christmas holidays.

Decision on how much money to be spent, for presents, decorations, meals and parties should be made early.

Menus and marketing should be attended to well in advance of the eventful day. Above all, the entire family should be made to realize the spiritual aspect of Christmas. Much enthusiasm was shown over the decorations and presents appropriate for Christmas shown by Mrs. Ray Graham and Mrs. Jenkins.

Christmas gift suggestions and goals for the new year helped the Central Homemakers to be enthusiastic about the program for this year's work. A new member, Mrs. W. L. Jonakin, also gave the club a boost.

Mrs. Parnell Garrigan was hostess to the club this month. There were eleven members present with the following visitors, Mrs. J. E. Logan, Mrs. Lucian Isbell, Mrs. Wilson Rice and Mrs. D. A. Gardner.

The club's annual Bake Sale will be Wednesday, November 22, at the K. U. office in Hickman.

Miss Alice Sowell and Mrs. Parnell Garrigan gave the lesson on Christmas Gift ideas. They had on display numerous articles that different ones had made, such as novelty aprons, pajama bags, scuffs, pin cushions, stuffed and yarn animals, tile coasters etc. The group spent an enjoyable time looking at articles in Christmas magazines on decorations and gifts.

Mrs. Frances Kay Cunningham of Washington, D. C. is visiting her sister, Mrs. Viola J. Kaleph in South Fulton.

The Home and Garden Department of the Fulton Woman's Club marked the beginning of the new year with a Four Seasons Luncheon at the club home Oct. 13 at noon.

The new chairman, Mrs. Arch Huddleston, presided during the meeting. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Lawson Roper, chairman, Mrs. J. P. DeMyer, Mrs. Rob Fowkes, Mrs. Claude Shelby, Mrs. C. M. Conley, Mrs. Sam Winston, Mrs. W. B. Holman and Mrs. P. F. King.

Mrs. H. V. Allison, president of the Woman's Club, gave the invocation. The delightful buffet luncheon was served from a long table centered with an arrangement of beautiful Radiata Lilies. Other flowers were arranged in the club rooms.

Forty members, including three new members, Mrs. Homer Wilson, Mrs. N. J. Tobin and Mrs. Carl Pirtle, and two guests, Mrs. Commodore Brann of Oklahoma City and Mrs. Allison were seated at four long tables, according to the season in which their birth date occurred.

Mrs. H. H. Murphy, chairman of the program committee, gave a most interesting preview of the program planned for the year. Mrs. James White and Mrs. W. S. Atkins had served with her on this committee.

The programs discussed by Mrs. Murphy included a book review, a hobby show, a China and glass display, a tour of homes decorated for Christmas and a May Day breakfast which will reflect the period of the Gay Nineties.

The Fulton Homemakers Club met with Mrs. Harry Allison, and enjoyed having the unique poem, "Something For Nothing" read, after which roll call was answered by quoting a favorite poem. A member's winning poem, "The Big Night", from the contest of Rural Kentuckians, was read.

Christmas gifts and decorations made by members were examined. Lovely articles may be made of remnants of various objects which are otherwise useless, and at little expense. Children train their hands and minds by participating in these constructive projects. "We should begin to prepare early for the Holiday Season. However, we should not be like the couple, who finished all preparations and then visited friends just before Christmas, hindering them," the members were told.

Plans were made for Annual Day, October 19; chorus workshop, October 23 and the county landscape lesson at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adams, October 25. A sheet of suggested Books for Children in the Hickman and Fulton libraries were distributed. Mrs. Thula Davis and Miss Sarah Linton visited.

Mrs. McLeod described a very unusual exhibit of gifts and jewelry she had borrowed that were made of bone.

Suggestions for an economical, easy and enjoyable Christmas:

1. Plan carefully, for gifts, food and decorations; consider individual problems, likes and needs.

2. Keep bills within reach.

3. Let younger children help plan.

4. Develop traditions — keep some things and serve certain favorite foods.

5. Please, regard "Property Rights"—don't take other people's evergreens.

6. Teach the children to develop the right kind of Christmas spirit. Lastly, small work-groups were formed, plans were made for a Christmas holiday for a suggested family of assorted ages, setting aside a certain amount for gifts, decorations and entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pickle of Big Spring, Texas spend last week with her mother, Mrs. T. E. Williamson on Hickman Highway.

The Fulton Hammond Organ Society met last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wilson in Clinton.

Program chairmen for each month of year was selected at a meeting Oct. 15 of the Junior Music Club. They are: Joy Fagan, December; Mary Jo Pawlukiewicz, January; Mae Mann, February; Bob Anderson, March.

In April the students who rate superior at Murray or Paducah will play for the Women's Music Club.

Jane Edwards is chairman and Ken Morgan, co-chairman for a music party in May.

Mrs. Roy Davis was honored with a nursery shower Oct. 13 night in the home of Mrs. Odell

VOTE "RIGHT" NOVEMBER 7

Mr. Moline's statement follows: Citizens of Fulton:

I am using this means of introducing myself to you and to give my views on the important issues that you will have to decide when you cast your vote on November 7th.

My wife, Vera, and I moved to Fulton in 1959, and purchased our home at 104 Court Drive. We came to Fulton with the Ferry-Morse Seed Co. and I have been an employee of this company for nearly 15 years. My job at the plant is Maintenance Superintendent. We like Fulton very much and will never forget the friendliness extended to us by the people of Fulton when we first came here.

I am running for the office of City Commissioner of Fulton. In my work as Maintenance Superintendent, I have had experience in administration and planning. At present, I am serving the City of Fulton as Chairman of the Planning Board and Vice-Chairman of the Board of Adjustments. With this experience, I feel that I am qualified for the office of City Commissioner, and pledge myself to work for the welfare of all the people of Fulton. There are many plans in the process of development in Fulton and my reason for personally seeking this office is to see these plans completed so that Fulton can take her place with the progressive cities of this country. We must plan now for the citizens of tomorrow.

Four years ago the people of Fulton voted overwhelmingly for the City Management form of government. There are people in this town who oppose this form of government. Some of these people are running for the office of City Commissioner. I believe in carrying out the mandate of the people by hiring an experienced and well qualified man as City Manager. Qualified, to me, means a man who has majored in Business Administration and City Management; a man who cannot be influenced by special interests; a man who will work for the welfare of all the people of Fulton. We must have a Community-minded Mayor and Commission elected to work in harmony with this man. I believe that to keep a city moving ahead, new ideas and programs must be accepted, if they are sound. I believe also that a city must operate much as a private business, with able, trained leadership and long range future planning. That is why I favor the City Management form of government for Fulton. This is the key to good, efficient government for the City of Fulton.

Also, I am in favor of the following: The City's purchase of the local Kentucky Utilities Plant and providing the citizens of Fulton with low cost power. Urban Renewal and low rent housing, both projects now in process of development by the City's Housing Commission. Only through Urban Renewal can the blight be removed from Fulton, where poor sanitation and fire hazards prevail as a constant threat to the health and welfare of our citizens.

I favor a Civil Defense Program for the City of Fulton. With conditions as they are in the world today, none of us know what will happen tomorrow. I would like to meet you personally and introduce myself to each of you before the election, but certainly that is impossible. There are many things I might say, but I ask of you only one thing. Note carefully the unchanging population of our town over the past ten years in contrast with the steady increase in our nation. Observe how we lose our talented young people each year because there is no new also compiling of adequate records of all proceedings of the Court to be filed in the City Clerk's office for future reference. GOOD RECORDS ARE IMPORTANT. Some legal knowledge is necessary in order to render proper verdicts. My records have been audited by a certified independent licensed Auditor regularly and no discrepancies have ever been found.

I feel my past experience makes me better qualified to perform these duties. If elected I will continue to RESPECT MY OATH OF OFFICE. All cases in my Court will be handled in a dignified manner, in accordance with the law applicable to the case and on an IMPARTIAL BASIS.

Your influence and vote will be appreciated.

Sincerely,

new automobile battery.

The local patrolman called Union City officers and they immediately had warrants against the four men, the three being held in Mayfield and the one who escaped.

Hill identified the other men as James Kenneth Riley of Mayfield and Burch Toon of Lynnville. Toon was released at Mayfield, before the burglary was discovered. Toon and the man who escaped, into the woods are being sought, by local authorities. The escapee has since been identified by police officers.

The adding machine and typewriter have been identified as belonging to the Union City firm, but as yet, police officers have not learned where the young men received the cigarettes, gum and battery.

Riley and West have both served time in Eddyville penitentiary, according to Hill.

The two men in the Graves County jail have refused to waive extradition to Tennessee at the present time. Hill said the two are being charged with breaking and entering.

in Louisville. He built a home on Henderson Drive and moved here with his wife, Irene, to be near their granddaughter and daughter, Mrs. Lynn F. Bushart.

Mr. Rice was very active in community affairs in the Buechel-Fern Creek area, a suburb of Louisville. He was a director on the Jefferson County Recreation Board; was organizer of the Jefferson County Volunteer Fire Department, furnishing fire protection for twelve communities in Jefferson County.

Mr. Rice was chairman and general manager of a water district for eight years, that served five thousand inhabitants; he was organizer and builder of a War Memorial in Buechel, Ky. for veterans of World War II.

growth to make earning a living here feasible for them. I believe we must make strides now to a new and better Fulton, strides that will mean more business for Fulton, thus creating jobs for our young people. We need and want these young people here at home. I am asking your support at the polls November 7th, and if I am elected, will work conscientiously toward a new and better Fulton.

AN INTERESTING current development in education is the use of television for instruction—both in classrooms and in the home. Already in use in many sections of the country, TV lessons may someday become as commonplace as TV westerns. Bell System TV transmission facilities and years of experience are a valuable asset to educators who are looking for a solution to a growing shortage of qualified teachers.

EVER SEE THIS EMBLEM BEFORE? It's the symbol of the Telephone Pioneers of America—225,000 active and retired telephone employees who have been in the business 21 years or more. Now 50 years old, the organization has 63 chapters and still adheres closely to its original goals of fellowship, loyalty and service. Wherever you find Telephone Pioneers, you'll find them engaged in worthwhile community projects to make their home towns even better places to live.

YOU'LL SAVE MORE STEPS THAN YOU CAN MENTION . . . WHEN YOU INSTALL THAT NEW EXTENSION!

CANADIANS ARE THE TALKINGEST PEOPLE in the world, according to the latest telephone statistics. These figures show that their average phone conversations per person total 511 per year! The United States (472) was next, followed by Sweden (346). By states, Alaskans average 609 calls per person, and Hawaiians are next with 536.

CONVENIENCE, PLUS: An extension phone in your bedroom! Mighty welcome—when you're laziest or busiest; whether it's night-time or nap-time; daytime or anytime, you'll be forever grateful for a step-saving extension in your bedroom. Call us today and order yours.
